

GUES Pizzazz Show Choir

By Ashley Owen
Pizzazz Director

The Pizzazz Show Choir at the Upper Elementary School has been working hard this second semester. They have been practicing every Tuesday after school until 5:00 learning choreography for their community performances and for their Pops Concert. They will perform in the community on Wednesday, March 26, Tuesday, April 15, and for the Pops Concert on Friday, April 11, at 7:00. If you would like to see them in the community, check the GUES website and Facebook page for a list of places they will be performing.

The students are so excited to show their friends, family, and community what they have learned. They will be performing a selection of 50's songs and a selection of current Pop songs that have topped the charts.

MSPRA Announces 2013 Awards

JACKSON

Mississippi's public schools work in myriad ways to communicate with their local communities, and last month some of those efforts were recognized by MSPRA (Mississippi School Public Relations Association).

"We have so many great programs and people in our schools, and this is one way to honor their hard work in the area of communications," said Sandi Beason, public information officer in the Clinton Public School District and president of the Mississippi School Public Relations

Association.

During the awards dinner, school districts and school public relations professionals across the state were honored for their publications, marketing efforts, and online communications. The recognitions are part of MSPRA's annual Awards of Excellence Program.

Grenada's Communications Team was recognized with several awards, receiving First Place Awards in Print: Newsletter/Newspaper, and Identity Image Package and Third Place in Marketing Materials.
