

GUES Helmet Give-A-Way

Allison Lowther from the Mississippi Department of Rehabilitation Services spoke to GUES students about the importance of protecting their brain during cycling and other sports. The presentation included a demonstration of the correct way to wear a helmet and its importance in preventing brain injury. The Mississippi Department of Rehabilitation Services provided each student with the correct sized sport helmet at the conclusion of the visit.
