GES Lunch on the Roof

Students at Grenada Elementary School celebrated National Young Readers Week by reading books. Administrators promised to eat their lunch on the roof if the students met their goal of 2,000 books. Since GES students read 3,655 books, the administration enjoyed their sandwiches at a higher altitude. Katie Hood, GES Librarian, explains, "To promote early literacy, last year we set our goal at 1,000 and students read almost triple that. This year we challenged them to read 2,000 books and they surpassed that goal tremendously! This annual competition gets students excited about reading, which is so critical in the elementary years." Administrators participating in the "Lunch on the Roof" challenge were (l to r) Superintendent Dr. David Daigneault, Administrative Academic Officer Lyle Williams, Assistant Principal Dawn Walls, Assistant Principal Reginald Herrington, and Principal Joey Carpenter.

MTFC Director

Grenada High School NJROTC students participated in Red Ribbon Week during the week of October 24-28, 2016. The students received ribbons, pencils, pens, bracelets, and stickers for participating in Red Ribbon Week.

The NJROTC classes are under the instruction of Chief Foreman and are active in tobacco free education monthly in conjunction with the Mississippi Tobacco Free Coalition (MTFC) of Grenada, Yalobusha, and Calhoun Counties.

Red Ribbon Week is the nation's oldest and largest drug prevention program in the nation, reaching millions of Americans who wear red ribbons and participate in community anti-drug events.

The MTFC works to reduce tobacco-related disease and death by educating children, teens, and adults about the dangers of tobacco, encouraging communities to implement smokefree ordinances and promoting tobacco cessation services.

For more information, contact Sue Mashburne, MTFC Director at 662-226-2589. This program is funded by the Mississippi State Department of Health through the Grenada School District.
