

Grenada Receives Mini-Grant

ment, but after students leave our campuses, we are usually unable to impact the quality of their life experience. This grant will restore some balance for this traumatized family, providing comfort with clothing, personal hygiene items, and housing supplies.”

The grant was sponsored by the National Joint Powers Alliance, (NJPA) a national purchasing/procurement co-op, and implemented by the American Association of School Administrators (AASA). Since 2002, the Mini-Grant Program has helped school districts meet health, social service, academic and/or related family needs of individual disadvantaged children. AASA awarded 25 mini-grants to districts across the country.

GSD has been awarded a small grant from the NJPA/AASA 2013 Helping Kids Program Urgent Need Program.

Grenada’s winning proposal, written by Dr. Sandra Howell, will provide basic necessities for four children, survivors of a house fire. Dr. Howell states, “Our schools surround students with a safe, nurturing environ-
